

See an Overdose?

Call 911 and Save a Life!

Signs of a Heroin / Opioid Overdose:

- ⇒ Slow and shallow breathing
- ⇒ Very sleepy, unable to talk, or unconscious
- ⇒ Blue lips or fingertips
- ⇒ Snoring or gurgling sounds

Are you worried that either you or the person overdosing will be in trouble with the law if you call for help?

- ⇒ Pennsylvania Act 139 called THE GOOD SAMARITAN LAW permits certain criminal and civil protections for those who reach out to the authorities for help in an overdose emergency
- ⇒ The Good Samaritan law can also provide certain immunities for the person overdosing

For the Good Samaritan Law to apply, you MUST:

- ⇒ Call 911 or alert the authorities in an overdose emergency
- ⇒ Cooperate with authorities, and provide your name and location
- ⇒ Remain with the person experiencing an overdose until emergency services personnel arrive

IMMUNITY may be given for the following crimes:

- ⇒ Possession of a small amount of drugs
- ⇒ Possession of drug paraphernalia
- ⇒ Violations of probation or parole

Additional Information:

- ⇒ Information on Treatment Services in Centre County can be found on the Centre County Drug and Alcohol Office website at <http://centrecountypa.gov/drugandalcohol> or by calling 814-355-6744 Mon-Fri from 8:30 to 5:00.
- ⇒ Additional information on the THE GOOD SAMARITAN LAW- ACT 139 can be found at <http://centrecountypa.gov/DocumentCenter/View/3444>
- ⇒ For additional information on preventing opiate and prescription drug abuse visit the Commonwealth Prevention Alliance website at <http://pastop.org/>.

Be a Good Samaritan and don't run, call 911 for help!

This message is brought to you by the Centre County HOPE Initiative